

Gesellschaft für Recht und Ökonomie e.V. German Law and Economics Association

The German Law and Economics Association (Gesellschaft für Recht und Ökonomik e.V) invites paper submissions for our

18th Annual Conference, which is simultaneously the 9th French-German Talks in Law and Economics.

The conference will take place on July 9-10, 2020, at the Université de Lorraine, Nancy, France. The local organizer is Prof. Dr. Yannick Gabuthy (Faculty of Law, Economics, and Management). The keynote lecture will be delivered by Prof. Dr. Dominique Demougin, Technische Universität Kaiserslautern and CRED (Université Paris 2 Panthéon-Assas), on:

“Suppletive Regulations”

We welcome submissions of full papers or paper drafts on any topic regarding Law and Economics. Submission of extended abstracts is acceptable, but priority will be given to completed manuscripts. We encourage submissions by young researchers at the PhD level to present and discuss their work with more experienced scholars. The conference language is English.

To submit your paper please send an email with a PDF version (other file formats will not be processed) to the following email address: kirstein@glea.de

Please list in your email the name(s), affiliation(s), and email contacts of the author(s), and please indicate who will be the presenter of the paper, if accepted. Please add affiliations and email addresses of the co-authors who are interested in attending the conference as well.

The deadline for submission is March 9, 2020.

We will inform you about the acceptance of your paper early April 2020. If your paper is accepted for presentation, you need to send the completed manuscript to a commentator (who will be assigned to you) no later than June 6, 2020.

Should you wish to participate without presenting a paper, please write an email to the local organizer (yannick.gabuthy@univ-lorraine.fr) before May 9, 2020. Regardless of whether they present a paper, all participants should be willing to act as a commentator.

We will convey detailed information on the registration procedure, the preliminary program, as well as accommodation and travel suggestions from early April 2020 on. Each participant, active or inactive, will have to transfer a participation fee of €150 (a reduced fee € 80 applies to PhD candidates) to the GLEA/GRÖ e.V. in order to let the conference registration become effective. We reserve the right not to refund the registration fee should you later have to cancel your participation.

As in previous years, the German Law and Economics Association might be able to reimburse a part of the expenses of younger researchers who do not have access to travel budgets at their universities. If you are interested, please indicate your prospective expenses for travel and accommodation already when submitting your paper, otherwise we will be unable to handle your application. Naturally, we are unable to predict at this time the share of your expenses that GLEA/GRÖ e.V. will actually be able to cover. The beneficiaries of this reimbursement program will have to pay the same participation fee as other conference participants.

During the conference, the annual assembly of the members of GLEA/GRÖ e.V. will take place.

I am looking forward to meeting you in Nancy!

Cordially,

Prof. Dr. Roland Kirstein
President of the German Law and Economics Association
Gesellschaft für Recht und Ökonomik e.V.

Nancy is the capital of the north-eastern French department of Meurthe-et-Moselle, and formerly the capital of the Duchy of Lorraine. It is well known for its beautiful architecture, among others the famous Place Stanislas, one of the top UNESCO World Heritage Sites. From Germany, e.g., starting a train ride in Frankfurt/M., Nancy can be reached within four hours.
